What do you do now and what are you planning for the future? I am currently the head of the corporate restructuring and bankruptcy department at my firm. Whether in or out of court, I regularly represent developers, property owners, investors and lenders in debt restructuring and forbearance agreements and acquirers of distressed debt. In bankruptcy court I represent debtors, secured and unsecured creditors, creditor committees, landlords, co-op boards, and prospective purchasers. I am looking to grow my practice and continue to use my business and financial background to find practical and pragmatic means for my clients to obtain their objectives.

How do you unwind from a busy day in real estate? Relax with family, visit my grandson, read, and listen to music.
